RED FIRE, BAND-NEIGHBORS HONOR ESCH

NEW MEMBER OF I. C. C. IS "SURPRISED"

Surprise Party 300 Strong Calls Him Out on Front Porch to Receive Handsome Watch and Tributes

ESCH VISIBLY AFFECTED AT MARK OF AFFECTION

In Brief Talk Tells Friends La Crosse Will Always Be His Home

LED by the Elks' band and with scores of Elks bearing red flags and torches, that illuminated the street as though it were day, some 300 friends and neighbors gathered to honor John J. Esch, a surprise party Tuesday night.

It was a regular old-fashioned neighborly call, put through to show the appreciation of Mr. Esch's fellow townsmen for his long services as congressman and pressure over his appointment by President Harding to the interstate commerce commission.

Given Handsome Watch

A mark of their esteem, Mr. Esch was presented with a handsome gold watch, made by Patek, Philippe and company of Geneva, Switzerland, and said to be the finest watch made in the world. On the back of the case the initials of Mr. Esch's name were engraved while on the inside of the cover was the following inscription:

"Affectionately presented to Honorable John J. Esch by his friends and neighbors as a token of appreciation of his able and high-minded service to his country, La Crosse, Wis., March 17, 1921."

The watch was presented to Mr. Esch by Dr. E. Evans for years the Esch family physician, friend and next-door neighbor. In his brief presentation speech Dr. Evans said that he was doing it as a neighbor, who welcomed another neighbor home and for the honor that had been bestowed upon him through his appointment to the interstate commerce commission.

John McConnell, another neighbor and friend of many years, then stepped to the front of the porch of the Esch home and added more words of friendly greeting.

Our Loss Country's Gain

"After 22 years Mr. Esch will leave the La Crosse bar, Mr. Esch's leaving will be a great loss to the lawyers because of his good counsel and advice. But we must give way to the tide. The country at large, here in La Crosse and friends who come to La Crosse, and his home long continue to be here."

Mr. Esch, who stood with bowed head while the talks were being made and the band played, was visibly affected by the spontaneous greeting of the throngs that packed the lawn and street in front of his home.

"The welcome causes me some embarrassment," said Mr. Esch. "I am not sure that I am worthy of it. I have tried to be of service in an unobtrusive way. When in congress I never lost track of old La Crosse nor the ground state of Wisconsin."

"I have not asked nor written the president seeking any appointment. In public life, whatever has been done, it has been done without my seeking it. My appointment to the interstate commerce commission is a surprise."

MOVE TO OBSERVE GOOD FRIDAY IS GROWING IN CITY

Federation of Churches Takes Action at its Regular Meeting this Week

Further evidence of the popularity of the movement for the observance of Good Friday was indicated by the action of the Federation of Churches in La Crosse at a meeting held March 12th, 1921, when resolutions were adopted favoring the observance of Good Friday. It has been the custom of the churches in the federation in years past to commemorate the day in a special manner.

The Federation of Churches in La Crosse consists of the following churches:

First Congregational, First Presbyterian, First Methodist, First Baptist, St. Paul's Methodist, West Avenue Methodist.

Letters were also received by the committee of the Local Council of the Knights of Columbus from A. F. Mills, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, The Modern Woman's League and the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters No. 294, all endorsing the project.

The commemoration of Good Friday is by no means a new movement. This day has always been recognized as a day which should be observed in a fitting manner as a mark of respect for the sufferings and death of Our Lord Jesus Christ. All of the stock and grain exchanges of the country close their doors on Good Friday and no business is transacted. This includes such exchanges as the Chicago Board of Trade, The Chicago Stock Exchange, The New York Cotton Exchange, The New York Cotton Exchange, The New York Cotton Exchange, The Philadelphia Bourse and in fact every exchange in the country.

The observance of the day in La Crosse would be accomplished by the closing of all places of business in the city from noon until 3 p. m. and special services would be held in all of the churches of the city.

Executives Not Acting in Good Faith With Unions Declares Union Counsel

POSITION OF UNIONS IS PRESENTED BY JEWELL

Lays Down Principles on Which Labor Will Negotiate

CHICAGO, Ill.—Cross-examination of high railroad officials by labor leaders began Friday before the railroad labor board.

T. Dewitt Caylor, chairman of the Railroad Executives' association; Robert S. Binkerd, his assistant; Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific; and W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, appeared at today's hearing in response to the requests issued by the board at the demand of the labor side.

Frank Walsh, attorney for the labor unions, conducted the cross-examination, announcing that he planned to bring out evidence which would prove the roads had not been sincere in their dealings with the unions on the national agreement question, and that the matter really could have been settled in a conference without coming to the labor board.

Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, requested both sides to confine their statements to relevant matters and said that questions dealing with financial control of the roads or with matters which belonged under the interstate commerce commission, would not be permitted.

Unions Present Case

Eleven basic principles satisfactory to labor and on which labor would be willing to negotiate agreements were laid down before the board by R. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

"These fundamental principles upon which the national agreements are based, consist of: (1) The recognition of the right of the workers to organize and to select their own representatives; (2) The recognition of the right of the workers to bargain collectively with their employers; (3) The recognition of the right of the workers to strike; (4) The recognition of the right of the workers to join labor unions; (5) The recognition of the right of the workers to have a say in the management of the enterprise; (6) The recognition of the right of the workers to have a say in the distribution of the profits of the enterprise; (7) The recognition of the right of the workers to have a say in the determination of the wages and hours of the workers; (8) The recognition of the right of the workers to have a say in the determination of the conditions of the work; (9) The recognition of the right of the workers to have a say in the determination of the methods of the work; (10) The recognition of the right of the workers to have a say in the determination of the methods of the work."

THREE AMERICANS WOUNDED IN CLASH ON MEXICAN LINE

Troops Called to Aid of Officials Who Surprise Party of Mexicans at River

BELIEVED TO BE SMUGGLING LIQUOR OVER THE BORDER

Two U. S. Soldiers and One Immigration Official Injured

EL PASO, Tex.—United States soldiers and immigration officers Friday were patrolling the Mexican border near here where from 10 o'clock Thursday night until 1 a. m. they had exchanged shots with a party believed to be Mexican smugglers in which three Americans were wounded.

The Mexicans opened fire on three American immigration officers who discovered the Mexicans fording the Rio Grande which is about fifty yards wide at that point. The return fire of the immigration officers apparently wounded one of the three Mexicans waiting the river and was immediately answered by rifle fire concealed in bushes on the Mexican side.

Five more inspectors and 100 soldiers of the Forty-eighth Infantry from El Paso responded to a call for assistance and for over an hour firing continued briskly. An occasional scream of pain from the Mexican side indicated that he American fire was not without results.

At 1 a. m. the Mexicans' fire died down and a dim light was visible showing about on the Mexican side.

C. A. Perkins, inspector in charge of the immigrant men said that he believed the Mexicans were attempting to smuggle over liquor or drugs.

The three Americans wounded were Private M. J. Koller, Co. D, 45th Infantry, shot in left arm and scalp wound; Private Peterson, shot through hip, believed serious; Joseph Thomas, immigration inspector, scalp wound.

CONFIRM RUMOR OF CAPTURE OF KRONSTADT FORT

Latest Russian Uprising Believed Crushed With Surrender of Revolutionist Headquarters

MANY REBELS FLEE OVER THE ICE TO FINLAND

Communists Within Ranks of Revolutionists Aid in Downfall of Fortress

STOCKHOLM.—Reports that the Russian naval fortress of Kronstadt, center of the revolution against the soviet government, has been taken by the bolsheviks, appear to be confirmed in dispatches reaching here from Finland. Leon Trotsky, Russian bolshevik minister of war, directed the assault on the fortress, it is said, and hurled upwards of sixty thousand men at its defenses.

Advices would seem to indicate that communists within the fortress and town of Kronstadt assisted the bolshevik forces when the latter broke into the outer forts of the place. The garrison, numbering approximately 15,000, is declared to have become exhausted by the constant bombardment and were poorly equipped in some important points along the defense lines. Many of the defenders of Kronstadt, together with the commander of the revolutionary troops, are reported to have escaped into Finland across the ice.

Captives Released

LONDON.—The Russian soviet government in confirming by wireless the capture of Kronstadt, by bolshevik troops, says M. Kusmin, soviet commissar of the Baltic fleet and M. Vasiliev, chairman of the Kronstadt soviet, who were arrested at the beginning of the rising, were released by the bolsheviks on their entry into Kronstadt.

DRYS IN POWER ON COMMITTEE TO TAKE UP VOLSTEAD LAW

WASHINGTON.—Reports that prohibition leaders in congress were planning to tighten up the Volstead law have opened a regular scramble for assignments on the house judiciary committee which will frame the amended law, if one is to be introduced at the extra session next month.

The committee heretofore has consisted of 21 members, 13 republicans and eight democrats. The new lineup will be 15 republicans and six democrats. There are seven places to be filled, most of them on the democratic side.

If all would be given to anti-prohibitionists, the dry forces still would be in supreme command.

Friends of Chairman Volstead declared Friday the movement really started to oust him from leadership had about petered out.

CLARA HAMON ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF MURDER JURY OUT FORTY MINUTES

WATER POWER ACT OPERATES WISELY FOR CONSERVATION

Former Congressman Esch Addresses Normal School Assembly on Important Law

EXPLAINS PERMIT FEATURE WHICH STRENGTHENS THE ACT

Tells of Great Work Done by Hugh Cooper in Many Lands

Iron, John J. Esch, recently appointed interstate commerce commissioner, addressed the students of the Normal school Friday morning on the subject of the federal water power act. This act, he said, is made possible by the invention of the turbine motors which make possible the utilization of water power with very little loss, and the invention of the system of transmitting the power over great distances with practically no loss at all.

He described the various legislative measures taken on this matter, beginning with the river and harbor act of 1890, and following through to the dam act of 1906. In 1908 President Roosevelt vetoed a bill passed by congress, maintaining that in any instance where congress gave the right to construct a dam across a navigable stream, there should be a certain charge levied for all the horse power developed.

Deadlocked for Years

"This served as a bone of contention between the house and the senate, and for the last fifteen years there has been very little progress in the development of water power, because there has been no legislation concerning it. Three departments of the government had jurisdiction over the subject of water power development, so there was bound to be a deadlock.

A short time ago the senate adopted the resolution of the house concerning the charge for the developed horse power, and the bill became a law, being signed just a few days after the close of the last congress. A great aid to the present law was given in the decision of the supreme court in the Chandler-Dunbar case which said that no private individual owned any interest, or had any property right in running water.

"The new law provides for a commission to whom applicants submit their applications in writing, stating the exact location of their project. The commission has the right to grant an ordinary permit for the period of three years to properly locate their dam, and to raise funds to finance the undertaking. The permanent permit is good for fifty years, at the end of which time the government can take over the project, grant it to a third party, or return it to the original applicant on demand.

Great Step Forward

Mr. Esch sees in the development of water power a great step in conservation. Sufficient horse power can be developed from water in this country to supply all the other sources of power used today, which would result in the saving of our natural resources for future generations.

The speaker paid an especial tribute to Colonel Hugh Cooper, the engineer who built the great Kaskaskia dam, which has provided for many different industries for a radius of several hundred miles. Col. Cooper is a man of world wide reputation, and has been good for advice by the governments of many nations. Besides his work at Kaskaskia, he engineered several huge projects in South America and plans to harness the power of the St. Lawrence river. His father and sister, Mrs. W. B. Baskhead, were in this city and his himself was born and raised near here.

JURORS REACH VERDICT WITH FIRST BALLOT

Girl Informed of Acquittal Before Verdict is Read in Court; Weeps and Thanks the Jury

PLANS FOR FUTURE INDEFINITE FREED GIRL TELLS REPORTERS

Will Visit Sister and Father; Considering Business Proposals

ARDMORE, Okla.—Clara Smith Hamon was acquitted late Thursday of a charge of having murdered Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman from Oklahoma.

The case went to the jury at 4:30 p. m., and forty minutes later came the verdict. B. P. C. Laughridge, 73 year old foreman, said only one ballot was taken, a secret one, confirmed by a rising vote.

Clara Hamon obtained this information fully seven minutes before the verdict was rendered in open court. She sat with members of her family, half smiling, half afraid to believe words of assurance.

Judge Thomas W. Champion received an affirmative response to his question: "Gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?"

The defendant followed intently the motions of the bailiff as he received the verdict from Laughridge, walked across the court room, and handed it to the clerk, who read it.

Clara Hamon gasped and drooped forward in her seat. Her younger brother, "Mimie," grabbed her, hugged her, and kissed her on the left cheek. Tears came to her eyes and the other members of her family cried with her as she crossed to the jurors.

Thanks the Jurors

Gratefully she thanked them for their verdict.

Leaving on Sheriff Buck Garrett and her brother, she came to the pressroom, and, with tears streaming down her face, said:

"I am the happiest woman in the world."

She used a secret passage from the court room to escape the crowds. Then, she rested in another room of the county building. There she received congratulations.

Clara Hamon's plans for the future are incomplete, she and members of her counsel of six attorneys said. She is considering several business propositions, according to Walter Scott of Fort Worth, Texas, one of her counsel, but what she shall do in the immediate future is undetermined.

To Visit Sister Again

She probably will remain in Ardmore a day or two at the home she loaned to be here for trial, and then probably will go to Wilson, eighteen miles west of here, to stay with her sister for a few days. Her father, J. L. Smith, is seriously ill at El Paso, Texas, and it was said she might return there to be with him in the last days of what is termed an illness which may be fatal.

None of the members of the family of Jake L. Hamon was in the court room when the jury returned its verdict. Mrs. Hamon, the widow, and her 19-year-old son, Jake L. Jr., left when the case was placed in the jury's hands. Members of her family said she had not yet been told of the verdict.

HARKNESS SHOWS HOW THE PILGRIM FOUND WAY TO GOD

Revivalist Continues His Sermon on Troubles that Beset John Bunyan's Hero

Rev. T. M. Harkness continuing his revival services spoke Thursday night at the First Methodist church, his subject being: "Finding God at the Cross" and his text was from Matthew 11:28. In part he spoke as follows:

"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

"We left Pilgrim last night listening to the words of worldly wise men, who spoke contemptuously of Evangelists, exaggerated the dangers before a Christian, ridiculed his having been in the slough of despair, and advised him to turn aside to a village called Morality, which he could see beyond a hill, and there Mr. Legality would relieve him of his burden. He advised him to stop meditating with things that were too high for him, and so being directed by worldly wise men, and the great desire being in his heart to be rid of his burden, he turned aside from the way to the Wicket Gate, and made his way to the village of Morality."

"How clearly this brings out the opposition of the carnal mind to spiritual religion, and the contempt in which the self-righteous people held the cross of Christ. The carnal mind wants to be justified by its own works. Whenever an awakened soul is turned away from the way of life, as marked out for it by Christ the Lord, it soon finds itself where Pilgrim finds himself, under Sin."

"In speaking of Mount Sinai, the apostle Paul described it as a mountain that might not be touched, and that burned with fire, and around which hovered blackness and darkness, and the tempest, and from the midst of which proceeded the sound of a trumpet, the sound of words, and the voice of people could not endure that which was commanded, and so terrible was the sight that Moses said: 'I am extremely afraid and quake.' Paul himself declared that when he endeavored to be justified by the law, he became so heart broken that he had to cry out, 'Oh wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the bondage of this death.'

"And so it was—no wonder that poor Pilgrim found himself immediately under the terrors of Sinai. The terrors of God's law, a great raging storm overtook him, the blackness of night, despair, fury and agony swept around him, and he would have given up in despair if it had not been that under the terror of Sinai, Evangelists comes again with a message of peace and hope."

"And I believe brethren tonight that this is just what men should do today, whether in the business place, who speaks a quiet word for Jesus Christ, whether to the casual acquaintance on the street, men speaking, harkening to the word of God to one another, that lifts the burden from the weary souls, that lifts the clouds in the darkness of despair that everywhere are hanging over us, threatening to engulf us, causing many today to give up in despair."

No Specific Sin Sought

"Some folks have even been chiding me, because in my preaching so far I have not been going after any specific sins, which so many times is done, and which perhaps would arouse opposition and curiosity, but I am seeking rather that we might have the great, quiet voice of God speaking to us in all his majesty and might, and enabling us to see our sin as workers together with him, in the great evangel of mercy and love."

Public Engineering

THE new secretary of commerce of the United States is a man who can see. His vision was demonstrated during the war by his services as organizer of relief work, as food administrator of the United States and later of most of the known world. He also has a quality of origination, a genius for getting the heart out of a perplexing tangle of statistics, for instance, and reducing it to something fairly simple and understandable which instantly appeals as a practical and effective proposal. This latter, one is inclined to think, is the product of his engineering training as well as his native ability, but whatever it is it is a comfortable quality to have in the cabinet at this juncture.

What the country may expect in the line of suggestive and inspiring leadership from the department of Commerce under the regime of Hoover is indicated in an article which he wrote for the February number of Farm and Fireside. The article was written before Mr. Hoover became a cabinet officer, of course, and through cabinet courtesy no doubt Mr. Hoover would leave further developments to the secretary of agriculture, but it affords a comprehensive notion of the incisive and definite way in which he confronts national problems. The editor of the farm publication sums up Hoover's advice to the farmers as follows:

This is what Herbert Hoover says you can do in your local farm-bureau meetings to insure better prices to yourself for the things you grow on your farm.

Urgo your state and national organizations to work out a plan, whereunder all farmers will grade and standardize and pack their products uniformly, thus insuring a dependable uniform quality to the jobber, wholesaler, manufacturer, and consumer who buys them from you. Uncertain qualities and grade now adds one of the big slices to the marketing cost of your products that could be saved and put in your pocket.

Urgo a faster system of distribution for the marketing of perishable products. This will cut the dealer's loss from deterioration, thus enabling him to do business on a smaller margin, thus enabling him to pay you a higher price. Better transportation and storage are the things that will help to reduce this margin of wasteful marketing cost on both perishable and staple crops.

Urgo the establishment of a system by the Farm Bureau that will gather facts the world over and predict to you the probable consumption demand of the coming year or two for your farm products. This will enable you and your fellow farmers to produce a supply somewhere near the demand, thus preventing overproduction and consequent low prices. This was done by the Food Administration, and can be done by your organization.

Note that there is nothing visionary or impractical about that program—nothing that cannot be done with the world as it stands, with the tools that the farmer already has to his hand for the work. Hoover has simply taken the various fragmentary and interlocking bewilderingments of the American farmer's problem and knit them into an articulate and comprehensible program. And the program looks as if it would work and be useful, without adding to the consumer's burden. It is one of Hoover's typical contributions—practical common sense informed with the vision of a man who sees big and thinks straight. His suggestion for the re-organization of government and private business to eliminate waste is a chip from the same block. The department of commerce is likely to be heard from in the next four years.

Not Ready Yet

EIGHT years ago Dr. Alexis Carrel, noted surgeon, took the heart of an unhatched chick from its shell and put it into a feeding medium in his laboratory. On Wednesday he announced that the heart is still beating, and under the artificial life conditions he established for it has grown to many times its normal size. The organism, he says, is still functioning actively, and there is no reason why its strength and growth will not continue indefinitely, barring accidents. Mankind, since the dawn of science, has concerned itself with the possibility of immortality in the flesh. Dr. Carrel's experiment does not mean that the path is now open, or even that the possibility has been demonstrated. But it is a great step forward, a demonstration that the path is open farther than man has so far known it to be. Some day, perhaps, Carrel or a successor will pioneer a little further on the way. No one who realizes the advances which science has made in the hundred years or so since it was born on this earth dares to say that the time will not come when physical death will be vanquished, and the dreams of the alchemists and Ponce de Leon who sought the elixir of life and the fountain of youth be realized in a way they could not have conceived. It will be a long time—but it needs to be a long time. This sinful world has not yet produced a race of men that can be trusted with longer life than the traditional three-score-and-ten.

Mud

PIERRE PAUL AUTHIER and Mrs. Charlotte Franzen—"love pirates" the headlines called them when Authier took Mrs. Franzen from her husband at the gun's point—have been sentenced to three years apiece for criminal offenses of the meanest and most sordid description. The end of this briefly notorious case exposes the affair as a typical example of most of the romantic episodes which occasionally impinge on public attention with an obligate of "the-world-well-lost-for-love" sort of heroics. The newspapers spread on this sort of sensational stuff, realizing acutely how much interested the average hum-drum person is in the purple aberrations favored of high-colored fiction. But the actual motives which rule the characters in high-colored fiction are not real. The "higher law" of love-relationship is a doctrine that exists mainly in the psychopathic imaginations of a certain type of author. When such incidents happen in real life they spring, about ninety-nine times in a hundred, from base and degraded moral character, and weak minds. Authier and his light-of-love were not figures of romance, they were nasty little figures of mud. So are most of the actors in similar affairs.

"Normalcy"

PRESIDENT HARDING was like you, and me, and the rest of us. He spent March 15 toiling over his income tax return, in desperate haste to get it under the wire before the axe fell. To those who welcome the regime of "normalcy" the fact should be reassuring. We are to be led back to "normalcy" by a normal American, who finds it hard work to keep more than one jump ahead of his responsibilities. Being late with your income tax return is perhaps nothing to be proud of, but it is, at least, thoroughly human.

Many solutions of the housing problem have been suggested but none better than the one to build some houses.

Disappointed office-seekers are sure the first half of the new president's name is pronounced the way it is spelled.

The fact that there are a few Red teachers in our schools doesn't excuse us for underpaying the loyal ones.

Women must be given credit—galoshes are more sensible than summer furs.

Lucky the 1920 spender who saved his income tax as he went along.

It's a question whether the ten-ton truck is a friend of good roads.

A Man For the Ages

BY

Irving Bacheller

(Copyright 1919 by Irving Bacheller)

They had a long day of comfort in its current with a good store of bread and butter and cold meat and jam. The prospect of being fifty miles nearer home before nightfall lightened their hearts and they laughed freely while Abe told of his adventures in the campaign. To him it was all a wild comedy with tragic scenes dragged into it and wretchedly out of place. Indeed he thought it no more like war than a pig sticking and that was the kind of thing he hated.

At noon they put ashore and sat on a grassy bank in the shade of a great oak, to escape the withering sunlight of that day late in July, while they ate their luncheon.

"I reckon that the Black Hawk people were largely manufactured," said Abe as they sat in the cool shade.

"If they had been let alone I don't believe the Indians would have done any harm. It reminds me a little of the story of a rich man down in Lexington who put a cast iron back in his dooryard. Next morning all the dogs in the neighborhood got together and looked him over from a distance. He had invaded their territory and they reckoned that he was one of their number volunteered to go and scare up the back. So he raised the hair on his back and sneaked up from behind and when he was about forty feet away made hell bent for the back's heels. The back didn't move and the dog nearly broke his neck on that pile of cast iron legs. He went limping back to his comrades."

"What's the trouble?" they asked.

"It's my back," said the dog.

"What is it then?"

"Darned if I know. It kicks like a mule and smells like a catpost."

"Come on, you fellows. It looks to me like a good time to go home," said a wise old dog. "I've learned that you can't always believe yourself."

"It's a good thing for a man or a government to learn," Abe went on as they resumed their journey. "I've learned not to believe everything I hear. The first command I gave, one of the company yelled, 'Go to hell.' Every one before me laughed. It was a chance to get mad. I didn't for I knew what it meant. I just looked sober and said:

"Well, boys, I haven't far to go and I reckon we'll all get there if we don't quit fooling and 'tend to business."

"They agreed with me."

Harry had not heard from home since he left it. Abe had had a letter from Rutledge which gave him the news of Jim's elopement. The letter had said:

"I was over to Beardstown the day Kelso and McNeil got off the steamer. I brought them home with me. Kelso was bigger than his trouble. Said that the ways of youth were a part of the great plan. 'Thomas! Thomas!' he said. 'They are the teachers of wisdom and who am I that I should think myself or my daughter too good for the like since it is written that Jesus Christ did not complain of them.'"

"Have you heard from home?" Abe asked as they peddled on.

"Not a word," said Harry.

"You're not expecting to meet Jim Kelso?"

"That's the best part of getting home for me," said Harry, turning with a smile.

"Let her drift for a minute," said Abe. "I've got a letter from James Rutledge that I want to read to you. There's a big lesson in it for both of us—something to remember as long as we live."

Abe read the letter. Harry sat motionless. Slowly his head bent forward until his chin touched his breast.

Abe said with a tender note in his voice as he folded the letter:

"This man is well along in life. He hasn't youth to help him as you have. See how he takes it and she's the only child he has. There are millions of pretty girls in the world for you to choose from."

"I know it but there's only one Jim Kelso in the world," Harry answered mournfully. "She was the one I loved."

"Yes, but you'll find another. It looks serious but it isn't—you're so young. Hold up your head and keep going. You'll be happy again soon."

"Maybe, but I don't see how," said the boy.

"There are lots of things you can't see from where you are at this present moment. There are a good many miles ahead of you I reckon and one thing you'll see plainly, by and by, that it's all for the best. I've suffered a lot myself but I can see now it has been a help to me. There isn't an hour of it I'd be willing to give up."

They paddled along in silence for a time.

"It was my fault," said Harry presently. "I never could say the half I wanted to when she was with me. My tongue is too slow. She gave me a chance and I wasn't man enough to take it. That's all I've got to say on the subject."

He seemed to find it hard to keep his word for in a moment he added: "I wouldn't have been so good a scout if it hadn't been for her. I guess the Injuns would have got me but when I thought of her I just kept going."

"I think you did it just because you were a brave man and had a duty to perform," said Abe.

Some time afterward in a letter to his father the boy wrote:

Buy Oranges for Weight Juice Makes Them Heavy

The food and health values of oranges are in the juice.

In buying these enticing and healthful fruits be guided by the weight.

Juice makes oranges heavy. Therefore, the heavier they are, the better.

According to Department of Agriculture investigations, orange juice contains more units of food-value than oysters, oatmeal gruel or beef juice.

Medical authorities agree that the vitamins which science has found so essential to health are supplied in liberal quantity in the juice of ripe oranges.

Sealdsweet Oranges—Better Because Juicier

Sealdsweet oranges are better because juicier.

The superiority and greater juice content of Sealdsweet oranges is proved by the heavier weight.

Sealdsweet oranges will be at their best for the next three or four months—fully matured and weighty with juice.

Select oranges for weight to insure plenty of juice—and you will choose the Sealdsweet kind in preference to all others.

Tell your fruit dealer that you want Sealdsweet oranges and expect him to supply them to you—he will do so if you insist.

Sealdsweet Grapefruit—Tune the Meal: Tone the System

REAL ESTATE CONCERN ASKS FOR INJUNCTION AGAINST RENT BUREAU

Seek to Prevent Rail Commission from Financing Rent Regulation Work

MADISON, Wis.—An injunction restraining the railroad commission from maintaining the Milwaukee rent bureau out of its general funds, was asked Friday morning by the Milwaukee sales and investment company in a complaint filed with the supreme court. This action has followed veto by Governor Blaine of the emergency appropriation granted the commission to continue its rent regulation work.

The complaint requests that the appropriation of $185,000 allowed by the 1913 legislature for use of the commission be expended for general purposes and that the expenditure of more than the original $18,000 grant for rent regulation be without current and contrary to law and prejudices the plaintiff and the state of Wisconsin.

Should the temporary injunction asked by the company be granted by the supreme court, rent regulation in Milwaukee would be killed. There is practically no possibility that the senate will attempt to override the governor's veto, which was referred to the finance committee for consideration when it came from the executive.

A special committee of the finance body investigated the governor's veto message on Wednesday of this week, and agreed to report it out to the senate with a favorable recommendation. April 5 was set as the day for hearing the application for a temporary injunction restraining the railroad commission from expending its funds for the support of the Milwaukee rent bureau.

The telephone was first exhibited at the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia in 1876.

O'DOWD IS UNABLE TO REGAIN CROWN IN THURSDAY FIGHT

St. Paul Battler Fails to Show Old Form Against Champion Johnny Wilson

NEW YORK—Johnny Wilson, world's middleweight champion, retained his title in a fifteen round bout with Mike O'Dowd, former champion at Madison Square Garden here Thursday night.

At the outset of the battle the judges discredited and referee Johnny McAdams of Brooklyn gave his decision in favor of Wilson.

The bout itself was a rather disappointing one from a fight standpoint, as each man seemed afraid of the other, and O'Dowd only adopted his famous rushing tactics occasionally.

Had Longer Reach

Wilson, who has the longer reach, was able to stand off or outpace O'Dowd as long as the former champion was content to box or spar, but whenever O'Dowd stepped inside to fight in his usual rushing fashion, Wilson was the sufferer.

At least three times during the bout O'Dowd complained that Wilson was hitting low with his left hand to the body. In the thirteenth round, when their heads bumped, blood spouted from a cut over O'Dowd's temple, turning the last two rounds of the fight into a result of this mishap.

There was heavy swinging on the result. Wilson was pronounced victor in the bout during the day, the odds being quoted at 11 to 1, but when the men reached the ring for the referee's decision was announced, it was received with neither much surprise nor decision by the spectators.

Both principals had weighed in under the stipulated 150 pounds at Thursday afternoon. Wilson turned the scales at 155 pounds and O'Dowd weighed 157.

Wilson was the first to enter the ring and he received a warm reception. O'Dowd climbed between the ropes a minute later and was greeted by hearty cheers from all parts of the lower both men appeared to be in excellent physical condition.

PROBE TREATMENT OF N-P SPEAKERS IN KANSAS TOWN

TOPEKA, Kan. — In connection with an order for an investigation of the refusal to permit Nonpartisan league speakers to address a meeting at Marion Wednesday, Governor Allen Friday issued a statement in which he asserted he was opposed to the league movement, but that every effort would be made to see that league workers received fair treatment.

The governor characterized the league movement as one to preach class minded doctrines.

Former United States Senator J. R. Burton, who was escorted from Great Bend last Saturday night, was one of those refused permission to speak at the Marion meeting, according to reports reaching the governor's office. Governor Allen directed the attorney general to bring Marion officials here and question them concerning the affair.

NEW CHANGES IN TAX LAWS ARE EXPECTED AT PRESENT SESSION

Governor Refuses to Comment on Assembly Vote on Hanson Bill

WISCONSIN FIRM AGAINST GENERAL TAX INCREASE

Legislature to Keep Within State's Income

MADISON, Wis.—That the legislature is going to mark time on tax measures is indicated by the vote which was taken in the assembly on Friday when by a vote of 50-44 the house defeated the C. E. Hanson bill for the repeal of personal property tax. It is now believed that there will be few changes in the tax laws made at this session.

The action of the assembly will probably draw a sharp line with the executive office. Governor Blaine has urged the legislature that he sign no appropriation bill that would increase the general property tax in the state. Several members of the finance committee have expressed the opinion that they do not believe that appropriations can be sufficiently slashed to keep them within the income of the state.

Governor Blaine was silent Friday on the taxation question. He would not be interviewed. It is believed that the appropriation bills start next week to him that as soon as these bills are passed which would go into effect the present income of the state would be increased by the general property tax to financial measures.

Whether the legislature will have a clear majority to pass appropriation bills over the governor's veto of increased taxes on general property of the state will remain to be seen. Those who conducted the leadership against the C. E. Hanson personal property tax bill in the assembly declare that surtax bills and the Dahl bill to increase the general income taxes will meet the same fate by practically the same vote.

There is great doubt as to whether there will be a legislative investigation of tax situation in state. The ingalls resolution to accomplish this investigation has been tabled and sentiment against this resolution seems to be increasing. Assemblyman Dahl charges that many of the votes cast for the Ingalls resolution were an attempt to get away from voting on income tax bills, but that this issue will go straight before the legislature.

Reapportionment State

Apportionment of state with new legislative and congressional districts will be started some time next week, according to present indications. Both houses have agreed on a resolution for the appointment of a committee of 15, five senators and 10 assemblymen, to take up the apportionment question. These committees will be named next week. The apportionment of state will result in increase of legislative districts in northern Wisconsin and decrease of districts in southern Wisconsin.

It is probable that the Eleventh district will be somewhat subdivided. According to a recent census the First congressional district has a population of 222,445 as compared with 212,608 ten years ago. The Second district, the Sixth and the Seventh and Eighth districts will probably undergo some re-arrangement. These districts have not kept pace with the other districts of the state.

At the same time there is a reapportionment of senate and assembly districts and a general view of the situation would indicate that northern Wisconsin will get one or two additional state senators and probably from five to eight additional assemblymen. For the state senate, which contains 33 members the unit of apportionment will be 73,753. For the assembly which contains 100 members the unit of apportionment will be 26,318. The law requires a strict adherence to a just apportionment and legislation not based upon this principle has been defeated in Wisconsin courts as gerrymandering.

Easter Suits Offer a Gratifying Diversity of Fabrics

Tricotine, Poiret Twills and Serges head the list, but no less prominent and desirable this Spring are smartly styled suits of Twill Cord, Coverts, Tricoties, Hairline stripes, Tweeds and Wool Jerseys. The shorter type of jacket prevails. These suits embrace Eton, Mandarin effects, semi-fitted styles and Balkan or Russian affairs set off with bright little vestees or dashing sashes—

Faithful to What Paris Dictates Wraps Follow Cape Lines

Two distinctly different fabrics may have been combined in smart garments before, but never more artistically than they are in some of our newly created Wraps. A few models quite as irresistible differ from them inasmuch as they employ two contrasting colors of the same material to excellent advantage. Then again on the Easter program of styles are Wraps which achieve the popular two-tone effect by means of all-over embroidery applied in highly original ways. Priced from—

The Novelty Blouse Holds the Center of the Stage

If you thought the limit of artistic designing in slipover Blouses and Overblouse modes had been reached long ago you ought to see this season's models. They still cling to the loose, straight lines so long popular but their similarity to anything that has yet been shown ceases. Sleeves are full length, three-quarter and short and necklines have not a collar to their name. Foremost among the striking features which a glimpse at this showing discloses are clever designs worked out in bugle and seed beads, embroideries and braids, applied motifs of contrasting materials, and self straps

MORE THAN FORTY THOUSAND PERMITS ISSUED TO CHILD WORKERS IN STATE DURING YEAR; MAJORITY IN MILWAUKEE

MADISON.—In the fiscal year 1919-20, 43,320 child labor permits were issued by the Industrial Commission. Of this number 25,507 were issued in Milwaukee by paid employees of the commission and 17,812 outside of Milwaukee by unpaid permit officers reporting to the commission. The majority of the permits were issued under its direction, of the permits outside of Milwaukee 17,412 were original permits, and 4,400 re-issued permits.

Nearly 75 percent of all permits which were reissued outside of Milwaukee were in cities having continuation schools. Racine was the only county outside of Milwaukee County which had over 1,000 permits. There were between 250 and 1,000 permits in the following counties: Winnebago, Sheboygan, La Crosse, Manitowish, Port, Dane and Kenosha. On the other hand, there were less than 10 permits during the entire year in each of 10 counties: Burnett, Iowa, Iron, Lafayette, Marquette, Pepin, Pierce, Ashland, St. Croix, and Waushara. Seventy-one percent of all permits granted were for employment in factories and 13 percent for employment in stores. Nearly 96 percent of all permits were granted to children born in the United States, and only 4 percent to foreign born children.

The Industrial Commission reports that throughout the state the child labor law is getting to be better understood, although there are still many violations. In particular it is getting to be better understood that permits are needed during summer vacations as well as during the school term, and for after school and Saturday work as well as for full time work. This is indicated by the fact that while the number of permits for work during school hours in 1919-20 outside of Milwaukee is increased by 909, the number of vacation permits increased by 1,500 and the number of after school and Saturday permits more than doubled. It is also getting to be better understood that child labor permits are required not merely in factory work, but for the employment of children under 17 in all lines, except agricultural pursuits and domestic service, outside of continuation school cities. During 1919-20 there was only a slight increase in the number of permits for factory work but a slight increase in the number of permits secured for work in other industries.

Clothes for the African Cattle
Were it not for the ravages of the tsetse-fly, Africa might develop into a cattle-growing country, but this pest is to be found pretty generally throughout the Dark Continent and cattle which have been attacked by these flies are soon dead. In order to drive some valuable cattle through a district known to be infested with the tsetse, the animals were clothed in an envelope of fabric which covered them from head to hoof and then by moving at night when the fly is known to be least active, they managed to make the journey without any fatalities in the herd.

The Commencement of Eye Surgery
Little was known concerning the surgery of the eye in Great Britain until the expedition into Egypt under Sir Ralph Abercrombie took place following the advances of the French into the land of the pyramids led by Napoleon Bonaparte. The British troops, says the New York Medical Journal, became the victims of contagious ophthalmia, then and now widely prevalent in that country, and brought back that scourge into Great Britain. Incapacitated from further fulfilling their military duties, the disease was spread by these men throughout the length and breadth of the land. Serious study of the eye then began.

PROF. COTTON WILL TOUR WASHINGTON FOR NEW TEACHERS

Normal President to Urge High School Students to Enter Profession

President P. A. Cotton of the La Crosse Normal school leaves today for a two weeks' tour of the state of Washington. The state government of Washington has appropriated a large sum of money to pay salaries and expenses of prominent educators from all parts of the country who will visit each high school in the state, to urge the seniors of all the high schools to attend some normal school in the state next year to prepare themselves for the teaching profession.

In the opinion of Mr. Cotton the time is fast approaching when such a measure as this will become an absolute necessity for every state in the union. There are over 120,000 new teachers required every year, and statistics for the past few years show that not more than 24,000 of these are trained to teach. Many of the teachers of today, especially in the rural schools are not even high school graduates.

Instances have been known where a girl graduates from the eighth grade in June, and is installed as a teacher the following September. Each time that an untrained teacher is placed in a position the development of the students in her care is retarded. That the country is becoming aware of this situation is evident in the recent legislation of the Washington legislature.

SPANISH-AMERICAN VETERANS ASK AID FROM LEGISLATURE

Seek Appropriation of $500 to be Used for Annual Encampments

MADISON, Wis.—Spanish-American war veterans are appealing to the legislature for recognition and an appropriation of $500 to be used for annual encampments.

The opinion that they should receive some recognition, The Spanish-American War Veterans is a poor-man's organization. The army was made up of laboring men, every one a volunteer. When they returned they went back to work without asking for a cent of bonus from the government.

Dispensation of the appropriation would be made on the same plans as those followed by the U. S. A. R. the committee was told. Because of the lack of funds, the annual encampments of the Spanish-American veterans are restricted to what cities and towns are willing to offer the soldiers. The money will be given to the organizations that furnish entertainment to the veterans by the state, so that the charity or alms," said Senator Thos. Benteley, who proposed the bill.

"These veterans are not seeking the charity or alms," said Senator Thos. Benteley, who proposed the bill. "I am of the opinion that they should receive some recognition. The Spanish-American War Veterans is a poor-man's organization. The army was made up of laboring men, every one a volunteer. When they returned they went back to work without asking for a cent of bonus from the government."

There are now 41 camps about the state, it was stated. Efforts are made to have the encampments at different parts of the state each year, but because of the lack of funds, trips to the northern sections have been impossible. Baraboo has been chosen as the point of meeting this year.

None Too Soon

It was at lunch and he was vowing with a very tough piece of veal. "Now," said his wife, "you have said that there is something to be thankful for in everything. I think it would puzzle you to be thankful for anything in this veal."

"Not a bit," the hubby responded. "I was just thinking how fortunate it was that we met when it was young."

SIGNS O' SPRING

Signs of spring are still in order. In fact, we need 'em more than ever.

T. J. Polawski, 527 Kane street, saw a large bullfrog disporting itself on the Burlington tracks on the north side.

A robin has been perched in a bush outside the window of the home of Mrs. W. J. Welch, Windsor and Liberty streets, every morning this week, singing greetings to the bright sunshine and the whole world.

Prices of farm products have shown a price decline of 21 per cent since November, 1919.

U. W. HAS BARGAIN COUNTER PRESIDENT BIRGE TELLS SOLONS

MADISON, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin has a "bargain counter" president, according to E. A. Birge, who holds that office.

Appearing before the joint legislative finance committee to explain the university appropriation requests, President Birge compared salaries at the state university and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. Michigan, he said, pays slightly higher salaries to its professors, assistants, and instructors.

"How do the president's salaries compare?" Assemblyman George Oakes asked.

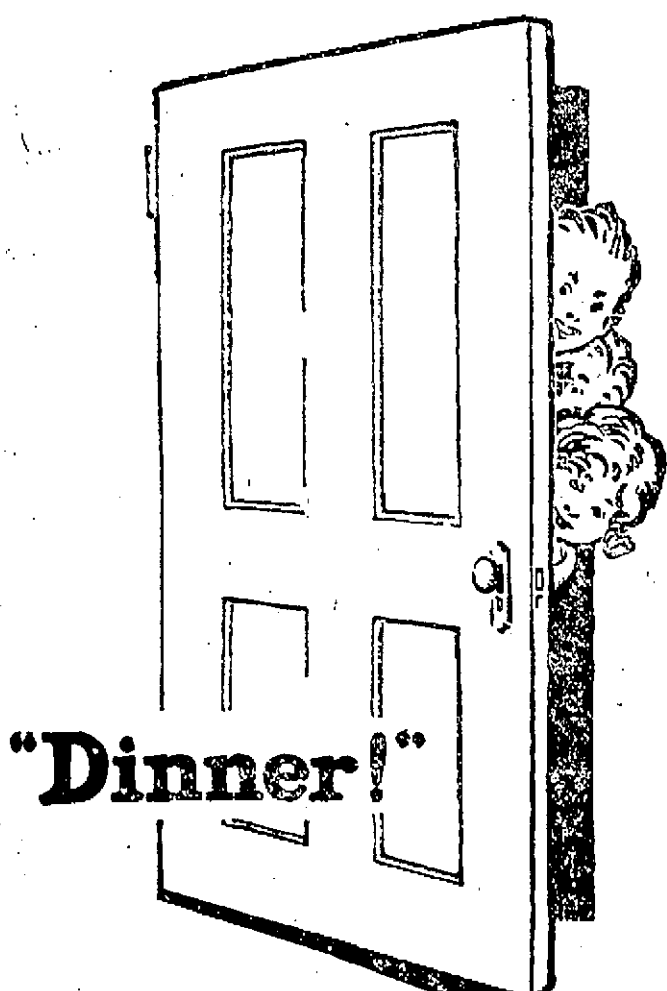

"Why you've got a bargain counter,"

Scars-Roeback president," President Birge retorted.

A university regent interjected that Michigan pays its university head $8,000 a year more than Wisconsin.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATED BY THE
OTTO LOEFFLERS

A HANDSOME DINNER party was given Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Loeffler at their home, 1602 1/2 Main street. It was suggestive of St. Patrick's day with tokens of the anniversary, the color note of green predominating. Centering the table was a cut glass basket of dainty ferns, and the places were marked by art and the golden pot of shamrock. The dinner was served in one corner. The guests were otherwise entertained by a basket of green carnations and another one of pink sweet peas, the latter giving a touch of rosy hue. There were laid for twelve. The evening was delightfully spent in a social manner and was culminated by vocal selections by Mr. Emil Hammer, who sang in his usual splendid voice.

Mr. P. M. KERN arrived home Wednesday from the south where he had been for about three months, visiting several of the states.

THE MEN'S League of the Trinity Lutheran church will be entertained at the church parlors this Friday evening by Mr. J. H. Haralson, Mrs. R. C. Simpson, will be the speaker of the evening and the Norman Saengerhorst will render musical selections.

THE NEEDLECRAFT club of the Methodist church held its annual business meeting Wednesday, March 15th, at the home of Mrs. E. W. 607 Winchester street. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. P. A. Smith; first vice president, Mrs. E. J. Walters; second vice president, Mrs. H. W. Wobbe; secretary, Mrs. H. J. Gabel; and treasurer, Mrs. H. S. Smith.

Mrs. MARY TREMPER and Mrs. J. E. Mullen, Sr., have returned from a trip to Casper, Wyo., and the former will be at her home, 721 1/2 Main street, her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Mullen, Jr., and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, of Casper.

ASSEMBLY VOTES TO LEAVE CITIZEN FREE TO VOTE UPON BONDS

Reject Bill to Make Property
Holding Qualification for Voters

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin citizens, regardless of property qualification, should continue to hold the privilege of voting at municipal elections, the assembly held Thursday night when it voted, 73 to 15 to definitely postpone the Stokes bill. Passage of the measure would have restricted voting on local bond issues to taxpayers.

When the question of restricting the franchise arose, it brought forth a decisive attack from the assemblymen who had met in the evening to finish the calendar cut short at the morning session by consideration of the Stokes bill to repeal the personal property offset to the income tax law.

Denial of suffrage to thousands of women justified the ballot, and to thousands of young men and young women, who entered on the voting stage, would result from passage of the Stokes bill, which it was claimed by speakers would be an injustice. Those favoring the measure explained that it aimed to exclude irresponsible citizens, who bore none of the expense of government, from having a voice in passing on bond issues which would mean larger taxes.

The assembly indicated its attitude toward proposed reapportionment of tax revenue between state, counties and cities, when it killed seventy to twenty-two, a proposal of Assemblyman Edwards to give the state a share in revenue derived from piers, docks, warehouses and grain elevators. Under existing laws the $386,000 derived from these sources is retained by the municipality.

The Edwards bill, recommended for passage by the assembly taxation committee proposed to give the state 15 per cent of the revenue the municipalities 20 per cent and the municipality 65 per cent.

Only scattered opposition was registered against six appropriation bills aggregating $330,250 and they were sent to enactment and then finally passed under suspended rules. Appropriation of $1,500 for purchase of a portrait of former Governor Phillip was the one bill involving money to meet opposition. After being handled about early in the session it went back to the committee and emerged last night for passage, but was held up by request of socialist members from Milwaukee. Interest rate on highway bonds should be raised from five to six per cent the assembly decided in its vote, 57 to 4, passing the Young bill. At the present rate it was declared almost impossible to raise money for road building purposes. An about-face was executed by the lower house on the action by which it sent the Anderson bill, repealing the law creating divorce counsel, to third reading. When the measure came up for final passage last night it was killed by a vote of 40 to 50.

the Green Bay and Western Railroad Company and in connection therewith to submit the following information:
(1) The full name and postoffice address of the applicant carrier, its president, its secretary and its attorney.
Green Bay and Western Railroad Company, Green Bay, Wis.
J. A. Jordan, President, Green Bay,
Wis. 54301.

ernment, state or territory application was made.

islature on April 12, 1895.
(b) Name of Green Bay and Lake

pany, September 5, 1915.
(c) Green Bay, Wisconsin and St. Paul

State of Wisconsin, April 1, 1881, after the closure of the First and Second Mortgage Bonds and the sale of the Green Bay and Minnesota Railroad Company.
(d) Green Bay and Western Railroad Company incorporated in the State of Wisconsin, May 27, 1906, after the foreclosure of the First and Second Mortgage Bonds and the sale of the Green Bay, Wisconsin and St. Paul Railroad Company.
(3) That the making and filing of the application was approved at a meeting of the stockholders or directors of applicant carrier, and when and where such action was taken.
(4) The making and filing of this application was approved by the Board of Directors of the Green Bay and Western Railroad Company at a special meeting held in the City of New York,
February 1, 1921.
(5) The name of each State and of each County or Parish therein in which such additional or extension of the railroad is proposed to be constructed, operated, or in which all or any portion of a line of railroad, or the operation thereof, is proposed to be abandoned.
(6) It is proposed to abandon the operation and property of the La Crosse Branch of the Green Bay and Western Railroad Company located entirely in La Crosse County, Wisconsin.
(7) The location, route or routes and termini of the line proposed to be constructed, operated or abandoned.
(8) It is proposed to abandon the La Crosse Branch the termini of which are Onalaska, Wisconsin, at the North end and La Crosse, Wisconsin, at the South end. The total length of line being 6.28 miles. It is further proposed to abandon the track right of way between Onalaska, Wisconsin, and Marshfield, Wisconsin, a distance of 1.5 miles, and a terminal charge of $7,000.00 for the privilege of operating one train each way
a day.
(9) A brief statement of the reasons relied upon to show that the present or future public convenience and necessity require or will require the abandonment of operation or construction and operation of such additional or extended line of railroad or permit of such abandonment.
(10) The Green Bay and Western Railroad company contends that the City of La Crosse, Wisconsin, which is the only city served by the line proposed to be abandoned, will be affected by the abandonment of the same for the following reasons:
1. The City of La Crosse is now amply served by the following carriers:
a. Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company.
b. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company.
c. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company.
d. La Crosse and Southern Railroad
way Company.
2. The La Crosse Branch has been and is now operated at a net loss, when the same is considered either as a unit by itself or as a part of the Green Bay and Western Railroad System.
3. All industries located in the City of La Crosse, Wis., on the La Crosse Branch can be served by the other carriers. What hearing, if any, applicant desires in the matter of its application.
The applicant desires only that hearing in the matter of the Interstate Commerce Commission may deem necessary.
J. A. Jordan, President of the Green Bay and Western Railroad Company, do hereby certify that on the 2nd day of February, 1921, I was granted the authority by the action of the Board of Directors of the Interstate Commerce Commission for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity

COCHRAN TO PLAY BELGIAN CUEIST IN RETURN MATCH

NEW YORK.—Arrangements have been completed for a return match between Edouard Horemans, Belgian 182 champion, and Walker Cochran. They will play a 4,800 point match for a purse of $2,000 and the gate receipts in the academy over Maurice Duby's room, where Horemans played Jake Schaefer. The match will begin Monday and continue through the week. Twelve blocks of 400 points each in afternoon and evening sessions will be played.

Immediately after the 3,600 point match in Detroit last week, which Cochran won by 95 points, the players tentatively agreed to meet again; but it was not until today that Shepard G. Barklay, representing Horemans, and David Palm, Cochran's manager, definitely completed arrangements. The players will meet tomorrow to post their forfeits of $1,000.

Can Germany Pay?

Germany must pay, say the Allied bayonets in Dusseldorf, Duisburg, and Ruhrort; Germany must pay, said Premier Lloyd George, speaking for the Allies at the London Reparations Conference; Germany must pay, agree the newspaper editors in this country as well as in France and England. But can Germany pay? Is Germany ready to make an honest effort to pay? Most editorial observers comment on the lack of accurate post-war statistics on German trade and finance. Every careful newspaper reader has been puzzled by the contradictory stories coming from Germany. One investigator reports marvelous industrial recovery, and another, apparently equally reliable, describes Germany as a land of hunger and poverty and complete industrial collapse. The view of the Kansas City Times is that "Germany is a dishonest bankrupt hiding her assets and dodging her obligations while pretending to hand over her all." Germany, says the London Economist, "has been letting her state finances fall into disorder with a view to showing an economic weakness. Her state services have been run at a loss, and she has used the printing-press with a freedom that has aroused the admiring envy of British inflationists. But her industry is in much better shape than her state finances, and on her industry her power to pay is ultimately based."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, March 19th, deals with all phases of the Reparations problem, and presents the views of European and American editors. The article is illustrated by a map showing the cities and other territory in Germany now occupied by the Allied armies.
